Announcing the release of the new Analytical Ventura web site.

Analytical Ventura leaders sought to provide a fast loading, easy to use, website that will allow customers easy access to technique descriptions, background information on the AV experts, and timely updates on the current biotech market. The website is designed to serve as a platform for scientist and analytical technique experts around the world to freely and easily publish information regarding the latest advances in bio-analytical technology. As such, the website will offer researchers the unique ability to gather information about the latest analytical techniques so they can evaluate which technique would be best suited for their analysis.

Designed and implemented by Convergent Informatics, the web site is now up and running and will continue to be filled with useful information. Individuals interested in receiving updates from Analytical Ventura should e-mail info@AnalyticalVentura.com to request a subscription membership.

In the future Analytical Ventura hopes to expand the website so that it serves as an encyclopedia of analytical techniques an open access posting board for local companies to post career opportunities and technology updates.
